Descendants of Francis Peabody

Generation No. 1

1. FRANCIS¹ PEABODY was born Abt. 1614 in St. Albans, Hertfordshire, England, and died February 19, 1697/98 in Topsfield, Massachusetts. He married (1) LYDIA. He married (2) MARY FOSTER WOOD, daughter of Renold (Reginald) Foster and Judith Wignol of Ipswich. The following information came from the Peabody Genealogy, by Selim Hobart Peabody, 1909:

"2 Aprilis 1635

"Theis under written names are to be transported to New England imbarqued in the Planter Nico: Trarice Mr bound thither the pties have brought certificates from the Minister of St Albons in Hertfordshier & Attestacon from the Justices of peace according to the Lord's order.

"Husb: man Franc's Peboddy 21"

In such documents, the age set down after a name often was a mere approximation. The papers of Essex County Court in Massachusetts contain a deposition, dated "the 24th of the 4th month 1662" (June 24, 1662) giving the "testimoni of ffancis Pabody aged fifti years." Another deposition, given Nov. 19, 1690, gives his age as "78 years." While the ship list would place his birth at 1612 or 1614, the depositions would set it at 1612.

The Planter sailed from London about Apr. 10, 1635, and arrived in Boston, Mass., June 7, 1635. Francis Peabody, a farmer and miller, settled first at Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, where he was living in 1636 near "Labour in Vaine" on a road that led to the beach. The first reference to Francis in the Ipswich records appears in a description of lands owned by Samuel Hall:

"Eight acres of planting ground, by an act of the Towne as in the old book Anno 1636, lying near the highway going to Labour in vaine meadowe, butting to ye East upon ye planting ground of John Seaborn and on ye North planting ground of Francis Pebody."

In 1638 or 1639, the settler joined with the Rev. Stephen Bachilor and 12 others in the original settlement of Hampton, New Hampshire. He became a freeman of Hampton May 18, 1642. In 1645, he held a share in the common lands of Hampton and was also acting as a member of the committee that oversaw the finishing of the meeting house.

The Francis Peabody residence in Hampton was near those of Isaac Perkins and William Cole. Cole's wife, Eunice, apparently had difficulty controlling her tongue and sometimes lashed out at her neighbors. An entry in the records of the Ipswich Court, under date of Nov. 4, 1645, says "Eunice Cole is to sit in the stocks at Hampton and to make acknowledgement of her slanderous speeches concerning Susan Parkings & lidia pebodye and to pay to the wintes Isaac Perkins 7d and the feas of the court." This Mrs. Cole subsequently was tried for witchcraft.

After spending about 12 years in Hampton, Francis Peabody on March 25, 1650, sold his Hampton property to Robert Drake and moved to Topsfield, Mass., which had two years earlier been set off from his former home of Ipswich. Here he spent the rest of his life. On moving to Topsfield, he bought 250 acres of land from Samuel Symonds. On Apr. 20, 1666, he purchased from his near neighbor, William Evans, an acre located beside Pye Brook, on which he established in 1672 the first grist mill in the town. His house, situated on the bank of the brook, survived until 1846. He built a second, two story house a little farther up the brook in 1692, and this stood until Oct. 4, 1914. A deposition made by Francis Peabody in 1690, when he was 78, provides some interesting detail:

"The testimony of francis Pabody aged 78 years is that I having bought on half of mr Simmonds farm: ye said ffeild mr Simmonds sent up goodman gage & goodman Brag to shew me the bounds of that farme, and they did shew me a stak in a medow which medow is now on the back sid of the dweling house of Isaac Cumins senr & on the north sid of the brook several rods: to be the bounds on the north east corner of the farm: & from thence to a tree on the end of pains hill near to a medow where Ipswich commity settled the bounds; afterward I got ensign howlet to help me run the line on the south est side of the farme between goodman every & me & he with others brought the line to the same place on the south est corner: to which place my fence did then & now doth point.

"Swore november 19th 1690 before me Samll Appleton Asst."

Little is known of Francis Peabody's first wife. She is clearly identified as Lydia in documents of the period, but her maiden name, ancestry and origin are unknown. She died before 1649 and he married about 1650 Mary (Foster) Wood, daughter of Renold and Judith (Wignol) Foster of Ipswich and the widow of Daniel Wood of Ipswich, who died in 1648. Francis Peabody died Feb. 19, 1697/8, in Topsfield. Mary survived about seven years, dying Apr. 9, 1705, in Topsfield. Francis' will, dated Jan. 20, 1695/6 . . . "

Frederick County Saga

The following article was published in The Wood-Woods Family Magazine, Volume II, No. 3, published July, 1974. A Frederick County Saga - Wood and Related Families (Compiled by Howard Hanford Hopkins, 4th, M.D., Ruxton, MD in 1945 and revised by him in 1970. Dr. Hopkins contributed this manuscript for the magazine.) Frederick County, Maryland was created in 1748 out of the western part of pre-existing Prince Georges County. Settlers had made their way into its interior certainly as early as 1720. Scotch Irish and German came by way of Pennsylvania, Dutch from New York and Delaware, and English from southern Maryland soon followed. Among the latter people were named Wood. The Wood families, led by Charles, Sr. and Joseph, came into the region they settled on the headwaters of Linganore Creek by the way of the Old Annapolis Road, known as the Wagon Road to Annapolis, at the time the Woods sought out their vacant land. It led in a northwesterly direction from Annapolis, crossing Parris Ridge through present day Mount Airy to strike the headwaters of Bens Branch about where the community of Prospect, or what remains of it, is located. Then it went down stream to New London where it became the present day Gas House Pike, wandering on to Mount Pleasant to join the Liberty Road, Route 26. The first survey²³ near the land taken up by the Woods was on August 22, 1739 for fifty acres, called Kendricks Hap, on the north slope of Bens Branch Valley, and a few miles south of Unionville. Robert Kendrick²³ was in Monocacy Manor as early as 1733, and Darby Ryan had joined him before 1734, when he had two tracts of land surveyed for himself, one of them, Darby's Delight. John James²³, whose son Daniel married Lucy, (1733-1827), daughter of our Joseph and Mary Wood, joined Kendrick and Ryan in 1742, taking up Dispute, close to Kendricks Hap. John James was named road supervisor of his section of the Wagon Road to Annapolis, and had its course diverted to its now more northerly direction, allegedly so that it would pass closer to the stone house²⁴ his son Daniel built in 1763, and which still stands in 1970. So it was no problem for Charles and Joseph Wood to move north of these people to excellent land, guided no doubt by John Howard²⁵ of Gideon, who had already spotted out and bought warrants for good tracts for resale. John Howard of Gideon, who came from Baltimore County, and Phillip Howard were living on Howard's Range, southeast of Libertytown, in 1748. They were land speculators, eventually sold out, and removed to North Carolina. Prior to and during the Revolution (1777); however, Ephraim Howard²⁶ was living on this land. His stone house stands on Dollyhyde Road now (1970), enlarged by the Maynard family after the Revolution, about two miles south of Route 26. Ephraim Howard was commissioned a Lt. Colonel, and served under Daniel Jenifer in the Revolution. (Tracey mentions an Ephraim Howard living in Bruceville, 1769, p. 221, Notes from Old Monocacy. Whether these Ephraims are one and the same, I do not know). My mother's name was Alice Eleanor Griffith (Wood) Hopkins. Born at Oak Spring, near Monrovia, in New Market District, Frederick County, Maryland, she was named by her mother, Annie Mary (Griffith) Wood, for her great aunt, Mary Eleanor (Griffith) Plummer, the granddaughter of Col. Philemon Griffith, a Revolutionary officer. She was very proud of her Griffith ancestry, and of the silverware and jewelry which she had inherited from Col. Griffith through her great aunt, Mollie, Mary Eleanor (Griffith) Plummer. The history of her Griffith and Hammond ancestors, from southern Maryland, (her mother's mother was Margaret Burgess Hammond), and their part in the development of Maryland is a matter of record^{1,2,3}. On the other hand, her Wood lineage has not so far been established, and the two records^{4,5} which exist are not without errors. Col. Philemon Griffith¹, Revolutionary patriot, and his sister, Eleanor, who married John Burgess, also an officer in the Militia forces, were born in the Griffith settlement near Unity, a village in northern Montgomery County, which in their time had not yet been created out of eastern Frederick County. They were both children of Henry Griffith and his second wife, Ruth Hammond. The progenitors of the Griffith, Burgess, and Hammond families in Frederick County were neighbors in Anne Arundel County, where they first settled in Maryland. Some of them were important personages in the earliest time of settlement of the Colony of Maryland, such as Col. William Burgess of Londontown on South River, and General John Hammond, one time Commander-in-chief of all the Militia forces of the Western Shore. Imposing Griffith built colonial homes still stand near Unity, namely Elton and Retirement, both of stone, Edgehill, log and clapboard, and Tusculum, the oldest, much modified and enlarged by additions. The Frederick County census of 1790 lists thirteen men by the name of Wood. One of these men was Col. Joseph Wood⁷, who founded Woodsborough. (The community of Woodville exists in the eastern edge of the county about three miles northeast of Mount Airy, having sprung up around Clary's Mill on Ben's Branch. Once thriving, now in 1970 now signs of the mill remain and those houses which still stand are rotting away. Justice Samuel Chase enjoyed a summer cabin in the hills near this place when he was serving in Washington on the Supreme Court. It was not named for the Wood family. There is a second Woodville in Maryland, this one a small community in Prince George's County, not far from upper Marlboro. This one was named for people named Wood who settled there.). About Joseph Wood and his family there has been much written. With him; however, this paper has no direct concern, because so far as I have been able to learn, he does not connect in any way with my mother's Wood family. The census lists also the names of Basil, Henry and John Wood. These were the fifth, seventh and eighth children of Charles Wood, Sr., whom I shall show to be the earliest known Wood ancestors of my mother. The name of Charles Wood, Sr. appears first on the records of the Land Office of Maryland, when he purchased a warrant for 350 acres of land from John Howard²⁵ of Gideon⁸. He called this land Charles Choice and on March 10, 1748 a patent was issued to him. Charles prospered on his Langanore Valley land, took up adjacent acres of vacant land and on May 24, 1755, we find him with a new patent called Re-survey on Charles Choice, for 930 acres. This land is located on the north and south sides of the present Liberty Road, Route 26, just east of the present village of Unionville, and extends east to cross the valley of the north branch of the Linganore Creek, on which at this point in Charles' time, Andrew Worman operated a mill. Within the ensuing twenty years Charles reduced and rearranged his holdings, by sales and purchases, had a re-survey made April 20, 1772, and on March 23, 1775 a third patent was issued to him for 801 acres, which he called The Grove although it contained essentially the same land as the previous patents. Two other land grants were held by Woods in this neighborhood. June 21, 1750, John Howard²⁵ of Gideon, purchased for 20 p Enclosure⁹, on the Linganore, from Joseph and Mary Wood. This tract, or part of it, subsequently was bought by Col. Charles Hammond⁸. In his will, dated September 11, 1777, he bequeathed to his children Wood Enclosure of 2,286 acres. (Wood's Enclosure was a local name for Wood's Lo belonging to Joseph and Mary Wood). Joseph and Mary Wood settled on Wood's Lott, west of Unionville, but adjoining Charles Choice. Then adjacent to and binding on Charles Choice, Policy, of 55 acres, was patented to Joseph Wood, August 10, 1753. (See Wood family of Woodlawn, KY. E.C. Adams, Kentucky Historical Society Register No. 47, p. 160, July, 1949). At the June term of court, 1749, Charles Wood sat on the Grand Jury⁹. In 1774 he contributed 7s 6d to a fund collected in Linganore for the poor of Boston¹⁰. He may have been a Quaker, because he did not swear to the Oath of Fidelity and Support, but affirmed¹¹. He took no other part in the War of the Revolution, but his son, Henry, appears on an undated muster roll as a bombardier of the Frederick German Artillery¹² as a member of the Mattross Company in the Continental Service lately commanded by Captain Gale¹³, and Basil Wood, another son, was a recruiting officer of Frederick County. Whence Charles Wood came into Prince George's County is not known. The warrant for Charles Choice he purchased from John Howard of Gideon of Baltimore County speaks of him as Charles Wood of Prince George's County. It would be interesting to know if he was related to his neighbors, Joseph and Mary Wood, (who came from St. Mary's County), or Wood's Enclosure, or Wood's Lott, and Policy. Although Charles and Joseph took up land about the same time, lived on neighboring plantations, and both were slave owners, no evidence of relationship has been found. The family burial lots on both plantations have been destroyed. They might have been helpful in proving relationship. The double log house of Joseph and Mary Wood still stands on Wood's Lott, west of Unionville, (1970). The slave quarters are gone, and the gravestones were dumped into a sink hole. Their lands were all on the Linganore, and the present village of Unionville lies between them. Charles' wife was named Sarah and according to his will, proved in Frederick, August 22, 1787, she bore him eight children. His eldest daughter Mary, married a Clary, probably a neighbor, since the Clarys settled south of Unionville and near Woodville. Charles Wood, Jr., his eldest son, a Revolutionary veteran, emigrated to Rowan County, North Carolina¹⁴ after the Revolutionary War; Benjamin Wood¹⁵, and Sarah Wood who married William Lamb¹⁶, removed to Maysville, Mason County, Kentucky, at the same time; Basil Wood, (already mentioned), Peter Wood, Henry Wood and John Wood, were the other sons who remained in Maryland. Charles, Sr. devised all of his plantation with its plantation house and old dwellings and most of his slaves and livestock to Sarah, his wife, and to three sons, Basil, Henry and John Wood. The latter sold and otherwise disposed of almost half of The Grove, for on Apr 24, 1790, they had the remaining land re-surveyed, and had a patent issued to Basil, Henry and John W ood for 470 acres, which they called ♦Three Brothers Lott♦, June 9, 1791. John Wood shortly thereafter died intestate, without issue17, 180018. Basil Wood then bought out the rights to ♦The Three Brothers Lott♦, of his brother, Henry, and of the heirs to his deceased brother John♦s portion14,15,16,17,17a. All but one of these purchases were made after the death of his mother, Sarah, whose will proved February 23, 1808, gave to Basil and Henry the residue of the estate equally. Basil Wood and his wife, Lydia, thus acquired most of ♦Three Brothers Lott♦. Basil and Lydia Wood did not continue to live on ♦Three Brothers Lott♦; however, because Basil♦s will, proved April 9, 1816, refers to a ♦house and lot whereon I now live in or near Libertytown. The graves of Charles and Sarah, or John, and of Basil and Lydia, have not been found. There was an ancient family burial plot on ♦Three Brothers Lott♦, the last traces of which were ploughed under about 1925, according to the present owner, Milton E. Forney. Within sight of the old graveyard, Mr. Forney now occupies what may have been the original plantation house. The house is not large, but has good lines and is built of stone and mortar, in recent years covered with stucco. It faces north close to the Liberty Road. The outbuildings have disappeared and only the mill dam with remnants of its race remain to indicate the site of Worman♦s mill, not far distant. The land patents surrounding Three Brothers Lott during Basil Woods lifetime bore interesting names. There were ♦Bite the Biter♦, ♦Bite Me Softly♦, and ♦The Biter is Bitte To the south lay ♦Re-survey on Cold Friday♦11, patented to Edward Dorsey, another speculator in land, June 15, 1753, parts of which subsequently came into the hands of the Lawrence family and Shriner family. (My late great uncle Frank Downey, son of William, Jr., of New Market, married Fannie Lawrence of ♦Shrineria♦, the stone house on the Shriner-Lawrence lands south of Unionville, still standing in 1970). Upton Lawrence was prominent in the early history of Hagerstown. To the west lay ♦Goo Neighbor♦, patented to Jacob Danner (ancestor of Mrs. Mary Danner Dudderar of Unionville, 1970), in 1776; and Pollicy, patented to Joseph Wood August 10, 1753. To the north lay ♦Coomes, His Inheritance, patented to Dennis Ensey May 25, 1749, and to the east Sapling Ridge, patented to Henry Storey, September 10, 1753. Lugenbiehl, Brightwells, Bakers and Worman also lived nearby. Pearres came in later. Lugenbiehl gravestones of the eighteenth century may still be seen standing in a field southwest of Three Brothers Lott, on land purchased from Charles Wood, Sr. Basil Wood♦s will was proved April 9, 1816. This will set free all his slaves and gave ♦Three Brothers Lott♦ to Basil the younger, son of his brother Henry, at the decease of the testator♦ widow, Lydia. He mentioned no children. Lydia died intestate at an unknown date. ♦Three Brothers Lott♦ was owned and possibly occupied by Basil the younger until 1833 when he died, also intestate, apparently without issue18. Henry Wood, the veteran, the father of Basil the younger, and also of John, about whom we shall hear more later, had married Sarah MacElfresh, of a then prominent Frederick family18,18a June 23, 1788. Henry bought land and sold many parcels of land. At the time of his death, intestate, in 183618 he owned three farms. Two of these lay south of Monrovia, New Market District, and just north of the ♦Finger Board Crossroads♦, on the east side of the highway, Rt. 75. These farms were made up of parts of ♦The Land of Promise♦ a Plummer grant, ♦Hickory Plains♦, and ♦Berkley♦, Woodward and Waters grants. The third was the ♦Brick House Farm♦, also called by the family ♦Rosedale♦3,5. This farm was made of parts of ♦Re-survey and Addition to Darby♦s Delight♦, and ♦Newfoundland♦. Henry Wood is said to have built the red brick house still standing on his farm of bricks burned on the farm. [Mr. ___ Vansant, who now lives in the house, relates an interesting anecdote (1943). When a little boy, he remembers Dr. Jesse W. Downey (of New Market) and a ♦Mr. Woo stopping in one frosty day to warm up while on a fox hunt. During the conversation over cider glasses, Mr. Wood told how the house had been built by his grandfather. This was Charles Wood, "Forty-niner" as well as fox hunter, one of the sons of Reverend John Wood, and grandson of Henry.] Henry bought the land from John Pancoast in 1815 so the house was built subsequent to that date. The farm is bounded on the north by the Old Annapolis Road and on the west by the connecting road, now called Detrick Road, two miles east of New Market. It has been owned by the Vansant family for two generations19. (1945). While Basil the younger lived in obscurity, dying in 1838, his brother, John was becoming well known. Born 1793, he married Ruth Hammond Burgess, daughter of John and Eleanor (Griffith) Burgess June 6, 181420. It seems likely that Henry Wood may have bought ♦Newfoundland♦ and built ♦Rosedale♦ for his son John. At least it is said that John died there, (in 1840), four years after the death of his brother, and it is fairly certain that Ruth bore John sixteen children there. Not only was John a successful farmer, but achieved local renown as a Methodist circuit rider, and was entitled Reverend John Wood. He was also fortunate in his legacies. By his father♦s death, 1836, his brother Basil the younger♦s death in 1838, both intestate and with no other heirs there came to him ♦Three Brothers Lott♦, near Unionville, ♦Rosedale♦ on the Annapolis Road, and Henry♦s two farms south of Monrovia18, one of which was also called ♦Rosedale♦. Reverend John died intestate in 1840. This posed quite a problem for his widow, Ruth, and her surviving 14 children. In case some readers might be interested they were: 1. Basil Wood who married Charlotte Hammond. 2. John Henry Wood who married Louise Browning. 3. Jacob Gruber Wood who married (1st) ___ Hammond, (2nd) Sophia Smith. 4. Sarah Ann Wood who married Lebbeus Griffith, Sr.21. 5. Charles Wood who married Katherine Worthington5. 6. Joseph Wood who married Eva R. Burgess3. (My greatgrandfather). 7. Isaac Newton Wood, M.D. who married Lydia Adams Norris. 8. Mary Ellen Wood who married Nicholas Hammond. 9. Elizabeth Wood who married Philemon Howard Griffith (of Lebbeus). 10. Lydia Ruth Hammond Wood who married Abraham Dickson. 11. Rachel Wood who married Greenbury Etchison. 12. Moses Wood who married Mary Etchison. 13. Joshua Wood who married Eliza Talbott. 14. Elias Wood who married Amanda Swomley. 15. William Wood who died very young. 16. Noel Wood who died in infancy. Considerable contention arose between Ruth and her children concerning the disposition of Rev. John♦s property. The court thereupon appointed a trustee to settle her affairs in the person of Thomas Hammond referred to as Major in the records18. (Thomas Hammond of ♦Black Castle♦, the Vachel Hammond estate northeast of Libertytown). Thomas Hammond, after many hearings and deliberations, (in the National Hotel of New Market, Hamilton Stier27, Proprietor), with the heirs, sold ♦Three Brothers Lott♦ to John Cochran in 1841. Thus this land passed out of the Wood ownership after they had held it nearly one hundred years. Ruth H. Wood was awarded as her share part of the ♦Re-survey on the Land of Promise♦ and a part of ♦Hickory Plains♦, the ♦Rosedale♦ farm south of Monrovia. Isaac Bond♦s map of Frederick County, published 1858, shows her to be living there at that date with J.H. Wood, her son, on the adjoining farm. On her farm, which is now owned by Mrs. B. Swartz, there are still to be seen in 1943 the original house built of logs covered with clapboard, and part of the slave♦s kitchen with a great fireplace. South of the land leading to the house is the family burial plot grown up into a thicket. From it a number of the gravestones were removed to the cemetery in New Market. [The stones found and removed were: Eva R. Burgess, wife of Joseph Wood, born November 11, 1824, died March 21, 1875 (my great grandmother). Jacob G. Wood, born Feb. 7, 1820, died Sept. 1, 1877. Ira Newton Wood died Sept. 7, 1881, aged 30. Lebbeus Griffith, son of Philemon and Elizabeth Griffith, born Jan. 21, 1862, died Sept. 21, 1863.] At the same time the gravestone of Col. Philemon Griffith and his family were found lying prostrate in a wheat field not so far away on land which had been the home place of Col. Griffith, and which now belongs to a Mr. Martin. [These stones were also removed to the New Market Cemetery: Col. Philemon Griffith, died April 29, 1838, aged 81. Eleanor (Jacob) Griffith, his wife, died April 15, 1838, aged 76. Lebbeus Griffith, born Feb. 11, 1804, died Feb. 5, 1889. Ruth H., wife of Charles D. Warrfield, died Sept. 31, 1854, aged 60. Philemon Griffith of U.S. Navy, son of Lemuel and Rachel W. Griffith, died in Washington, D.C., Feb. 24, 1858, aged 37. Col. Philemon Griffith was my great great great grandfather. See Ann Arundel Gentry, H. W. Newman, p. 163.] Ruth H. Wood died intestate, and her land eventually came into the hands of her son, Joseph Wood, who had married Eva R. Burgess, daughter of Washington Burgess and Mary Anne (Stier)27 Burgess. (Washington Burgess was son of Capt. John Burgess and Eleanor (Griffith) Burgess, sister of Col. Philemon Griffith). Joseph Wood, 1822-1896, operated the New Market Hotel for a time. He was the guardian of my grandmother, Annie Marie Griffith, who was left an orphan by the accidental deaths of her father, Mordecai Jacob Griffith22 and mother, Margaret Burgess (Hammond) Griffith. (She was the daughter of Nathan Hammond of Vachel (of Black Castle). Nathan Hammond married Charlotte, sister of Washington Burgess, Nov. 11, 1812.) In due course of time Annie Mary Griffith married Ira Newton Wood, one of Joseph Wood♦s sons, and when Ira died, another son, Melvin Pinkney Wood3. She had by the first union five children, Mordecai who married his cousin Lena Griffith, Margaret Evelyn who married her cousin Bayard C. Burgess, Alice Eleanor Griffith (my mother) 1877-1921 who married my father Howard H. Hopkins, 3rd, M.D. and Anna Louise who married C.A. McBride. Only one of the descendants of Charles Wood, Sr., bearing the name of Wood, remains in Frederick County - Charles, grandson of Charles, the Forty-niner, and son of Rev. John Wood (1970). (Charles now has issue, Margaret died without issue.) ADDENDA The record of the Charles Wood lineage is now fairly clear, as is the record of the family of Col. Joseph Wood, founder of Woodsborough, and revolutionary patriot, and also Joseph and Mary Wood of Unionville. The Frederick County registry of wills reveals other Woods, three of whom connect with these families. They descend from Joseph and Mary Wood of Woods Enclosure, Woods Lott, and Pollicy. Family Relationship to Daniel Boone, Abraham Lincoln

Eddie Pitman is very distantly related to Daniel Boone and Abraham Lincoln, who are also descendants of Robert Harris and his wife, Mary Claibourne Rice Harris.

"In Peck's Life of Daniel Boone we find that, 'Immediately upon this adjustment of Indian affairs, several companies of hunters from Pennsylvania, Virginia and North Carolina, hearing of the abundance of game along the headwaters of the Tennessee River, penetrated the wilderness in their favorite pursuit. At the head of one of these companies was Daniel Boone, from the Yadkin settlements, who ranged through the valleys of the headwaters of the Holston, in the southwestern part of Virginia. In 1764 we find him, with another company of hunters, on Rock Castle, another branch of Cumberland River within the present boundaries of Kentucky, employed, as the stated, by a party of land speculators, to ascertain and report concerning the country in that quarter.

"In 1765, he explored as far south as Pensacola, Florida, but was dissuaded by his wife from settling there." (1)

Pennsylvania Historical & Museum Commission - Mere mention of the name Daniel Boone conjures images of an American icon: trailblazer of the Wilderness Road, preeminent Kentucky frontiersman, defender of early settlements, a crack shot with a long rifle Boone's real and folkloric exploits are so well-known that his character is often overlooked, as is the fact that his personality took shape during a boyhood not spent in "Kentucke" but in Berks County's picturesque Oley Valley. The Daniel Boone Homestead at Baumstown, southeast of Reading, interprets the way of life of the Boone family and later eighteenth-century residents, highlighting the cultural and environmental influences that shaped Daniel Boone's future and took the area from frontier to developed settlements. Daniel Boone's ancestors arrived in southeastern Pennsylvania, following an established Quaker migration pattern from England. His father, Squire Boone (1696-1765)—Squire his given name, and not an honorific title—left Devonshire for America in 1713. Squire Boone, traveling shipboard as cabin boy, had been sent with his brother and sister by their father, George Boone, to help decide if the entire family should emigrate. The Boones had contacts with the members of the Society of Friends who lived in Abington (in present-day Montgomery County), where they first settled, and from which they sent favorable reports back home. The remaining Boones arrived four years later, and the family moved ten miles northwest to Gwynedd.

In Gwynedd, Squire Boone met Sarah Morgan (1700-1777), an American-born woman of Welsh Quaker background. They married in 1720 and lived first in Gwynedd, then in Chalfont, Bucks County, before they purchased two hundred and fifty acres in the Oley Valley in 1730. (The valley was part of Philadelphia County until 1752, when it became part of the new Berks County.) His father and brothers had already relocated to the area and enjoyed prominence in business, government, and the Exeter Friends Meeting. (2)

The Harris Family

I. The first known member of the family was MAJOR ROBERT HARRIS (born 1630; died 1700), who emigrated from Wales during the period from 1652-1659, and settled on the James River, near Weyanoke, in Virginia. By some it is thought that he was employed in the tobacco house of a man named Rice, who soon died, and that Harris married his widow. At any rate about 1650 he married Mrs. Mary (Claibourne) Rice, whose mother was Elizabeth Butler, and her father, William Claibourne (b. 1587; d. 1676). (a)

(William Claibourne came to Virginia in 1621, and was of royal descent. Through the De Toneys and Cliffords, he was descended from Edward III, King of England, Duncan and Malcom (b), Kings of Scotland, Odin and other kings of Escardia and Eric, King of the Goths 751 B. C. He was appointed Surveyor General at the solicitation of his cousin Ann, Countess of Pembroke. He was a member of the Virginia Council; Secretary of the Colony from 1625-1635, and again from 1652-1660. In 1642 the king (Eng.) describing him as "My well beloved servant," appointed him Treasurer of the Colony for life. Four ancestors of William Claiborne signed the petition demanding of King John the Magna Charta.) (c)

Robert1 Harris and Mary (Claiborne-Rice) Harris had a son:

II. WILLIAM2 HARRIS, b. 1652, who also engaged in the tobacco trade. He married Temperance Overton, a daughter of Mary Walters and William Overton, a wealthy tobacco grower, the son of Colonel

Overton, who commanded a Brigade of Ironsides under Oliver Cromwell. William Harris died 8 Mar., 1687, at the age of 35, and was buried in an old Colonial Church at Weyanoke. A bronze tablet marked his burial place. The church long ago went to ruins, and on 1 July, 1875, the tablet was taken to Norfolk, Va., and placed in the wall of St. Paul's old church. The tablet is engraved as follows:—

"Here lyeth ye body of William Harris who departed this life ye 8th day of March, 1687 Aged 35 years.

On the 1st day of July 1875, this stone and tablet was brought from Weyanoke, on the James River. It was found among ruins of an old Colonial Church."

To William 2 Harris and his wife, Temperance Overton, were born three sons:—

1. Christopher Harris, I.

2. Overton Harris, m. Ann Nelson.

3. Major Robert Harris, II, b. 168-; d. between 18 June 1765 and 8 Aug 1765. (His will is dated 18 June 1765 and was probated 8 Aug 1765.) M. Mourning Glenn. In 1750, he took up land in Brown's Cove, Albermarle Co., Va., and was one of the early settlers on Doyle's River. To him and his wife were born ten children, but we are interested particularly in Christopher Harris II, m. (1) Mary Dabney, and (2) Agnes McCord. He emigrated from Albermarle County, Va. to Ky., sometime in the period 1780-1790. He travelled over a great part of Ky., and entered lands on the Licking River, but settled in Madison County, where he owned lands on Silver, Muddy, and Downing Creeks, in addition to a large body of land in Albermarle County, Va. He owned a large number of slaves that he had brought to Ky.

(Mary Dabney, the first wife of Christopher Harris, was descended from Theodore Agrippa D'Aubigne, a French Huguenot, born 1550 in France. Her father was Cornelius D'Aubigne or Dabney [d. 1764 or '65]. He was the eldest of three brothers, who after the Edict of Nantes, left France and went to Wales. In 1715 the three brothers emigrated to America and Cornelius settled near Piping Tree Ferry, on the York River in Hanover Co., Va. Mary's mother was Sarah Jennings, the 2nd wife [married Apr 1721] of Cornelius Dabney. Sarah, said to be the niece of the Duchess of Marlborough, was the daughter of Charles Jennings; granddaughter of Robert Jennings; and great granddaughter of Sir Humphrey Jennings of County Middlesex, England.

Cornelius Dabney at his death left a will which was probated in Hanover County [Va.] Court, in 1765.) (First Marriage of Christopher Harris.) 1. Dabney Harris m. _____. 2. Sarah Harris m. James Martin. 3. Robert Harris, b. 24 Aug 1749, in Albermarle Co., Va; d. 18 Nov 1833, in Madison Co., Ky.; m. Nancy Grubbs (b. 24 Nov 1749; d. 1835). They went to Ky., from Va., in the migration of 1780-1790, and settled in Madison County. Issue: 1. Nancy Harris, m. 22 Oct 1805, William Stone. 2. Kate Harris, m. James Stone. 3. Mary Harris, m. 13 Jan 1802, William Woods. 4. Tyree Harris, m. 2 June 1803, Sally Garland. 5. Higgason Harris, m. 16 Dec 1800, Nancy Garland. 6. Elizabeth Harris, m. John or James Berry...."

THE LINCOLN FAMILY

(The information contained in this sketch was all taken from the "Ancestry of Abraham Lincoln," by Les and Hutchison.)

For many years nothing was known of the Lincoln family prior to their emigration to this country, from England, in 1637. Later, through the fortunate finding of some old court records, the family history was traced back to:

I. ROBERT 1 LINCOLN, of Hingham Co., Norfolk, England, whose will, dated 1540, was probated 3 Sept., 1543; married Johan (Cowper?). Their son was:

II. ROBERT 2 LINCOLN, of Hingham and Thetford, eldest son and heir of Robert (I); will dated 14 and probated 29 Jan., 1556; m. Margaret Albery, and had a son:

III. RICHARD LINCOLN, of Hingham, Swanton Morley, and Great Witchingham, eldest son and heir of Robert (II), was under age in 1556; buried 23 Dec, 1620; will dated 3 Jan., 1616, probated 24 Feb., 1621; m. (1) about 1574, Elizabeth Remching, eldest daughter of Richard Remching (d. 1567, buried in Carbrooke Church; Lord of Manor of Carbrooke) and his wife, Elizabeth (d. 1595, at Wymonham). Their second daughter was baptised 23 Sept., 1549, so Elizabeth must have been born at least a year before that. She died soon after her marriage, leaving one son, Edward, and her husband, Richard, married three times more before his death.

IV. EDWARD 4 LINCOLN, second son and heir of Richard (III) (the first son having died), of Hingham, b. abt. 1575; buried 11 Feb., 1640; married and left a son.

V. SAMUEL* LINCOLN, of Hingham, England, Norfolk, and Hingham, Mass., the youngest son of Edward (IV), baptised 24 Aug., 1622; d. 26 May, 1690, aged 71; m. Martha (d. 10 Apr., 1693). He was apprenticed to Francis Lawes, a weaver of Norwich, probably abt. 1633; sailed with his master to New England in the "John and Dorothy" of Ipswich, or in the "Rose" of Yarmouth. Landed in Boston 20 June, 1637. He had eleven children but we are interested only in:

VI. MORDECAI 6 LINCOLN, the fourth son and child of Samuel (V), b. 14 June, 1657, at Hingham, Mass., where he resided until 1700, when he removed to Scituate. He was a "blacksmith"; m. 1st, Sarah Jones (daughter of Abraham and Sarah [Whitman] Jones, of Hull, Mass.); who died probably soon after their removal to Scituate; m. 2nd, Mary Gannett, a widow, who (d. 19 Apr., 1745, at the age of 79.) Mordecai Lincoln died very suddenly "of an apoplexy", 8 Nov., 1727 in his 71st year. Will dated 3 May, 1727, probated 27 Mar., 1728. He had six children, of whom we are interested in: MO N', 1st wife HANNA SALTER, 2nd wife MARY.

George Boone IV, m. Deborah Howell. John Lincoln, m. Rebecca

VII. MORDECAI 7 LINCOLN, eldest son of Mordecai (VI), born 24 Apr., 1686 at Hingham, Mass.; d. 1736, in Amity, Philadelphia County (now Berks), Pa. His death occurred before 18 Oct., 1736; m. 1st, before 1714, Hannah Salter, dau. of Richard and Sarah (Browne) Salter, of Freehold, N. J.; and 2nd, Mary. He removed to Monmouth County,

N. J., with his brother, Abraham, prior to 1714, where he acquired 500 or 600 acres of land. From there he moved to Coventry, Chester County, Pa., where he entered into partnership with Samuel Nutt, in the business of mining and forging iron, a business he had learned from his father. In 1725, he sold his interest in the business. In 1727, with Benjamin Boone, and others, he was appointed viewer of the Tulpehocken road from the Schuylkill River to Oley. Removed to Amity, where he died. He was called "Gentleman" so evidently he prospered. His will dated 22 Feb., 1735-36, was proved 7 June, following. He and Hannah (Salter) had six children:

1. John Lincoln, b. 3 May, 1711; d. sometime after 1773; moved before Aug., 1768, when about 57 years old, to Va., and settled in the Shenandoah Valley, in Augusta Co. (the part now in Rockingham Co.), a few miles north of the present town of Harrisonburg, where he probably died; m. Rebecca, and they had a son, 1. Abraham Lincoln, b. 16 July, 1739, in Pa.; d. 1785, shot by an Indian in ambush; m. 1st, Mary Shipley of Lunenburg, Co., Va., dau. of Robert and Sarah Shipley. She d. prior to 1779, and he m. 2nd, Bathsheba Herring, dau. of Leonard Herring of Bridgewater, now Rockingham Co., Va. He went into Ky., in 1780, where he took up much land. Issue of Abraham and Bathsheba (Herring) Lincoln:

1. Thomas Lincoln, youngest son and probably youngest child, b. 20 Jan., 1780; d. 17 Jan., 1851; m. 1st, 12 June, 1806, at Beechland, Ky., Nancy Hanks, dau. of Joseph and Nancy (Shipley) Hanks (b. 5 Feb., 1784) at the house of her aunt, Lucy (Shipley), wife of Richard Berry, her guardian, who became surety on the marriage bond, taken out two days earlier. Nancy Hanks Lincoln died in Gentryville, Spencer Co., Ind., 5 Oct., 1818. Their son was 1. Abraham Lincoln, sixteenth president of the United States.

2. Deborah Lincoln, 2nd child of Mordecai (VII), b. Jan., 1717; buried at AUentown, N. J., 15 May, 1720.

3. Hannah Lincoln, d. before 1769; m. before 15 Dec, 1742, Joseph Millard of Amity.

4. Mary Lincoln, m. before 10 May, 1743, Francis Yamall (b. 27 Sept., 1719), a cordwainer, of Amity.

5. Anne Lincoln, b. 8 Mar., 1725; d. 22 Dec, abt. the year 1812; m. 20 Oct., 17—, William Tallman, of Amity (b. 25 Mar., 1720; d. 13 Feb., 1791), son of Benjamin and Patience (Durfee) Tallman of Warwick, R. I. (Benjamin Tallman b. 28 Jan., 1684; d. 1708; son of Peter Tallman of Portsmouth, R. I., and his (2) wife, Joan Briggs of Taunton, Mass.)

THE LINVILLE FAMILY

The first of this family of whom we know, was William Linville, whose wife was Ellender Bryan, a sister of Colonel Samuel Bryan, William Bryan and others, and a daughter of Morgan and Martha (Strode) Bryan. (See the "Bryan Family" for a further sketch.)

The Linvilles lived in the Boone and Bryan settlement on the Yadkin, coming to the Yadkin country with the Bryans from Va., but at what time is not known.

William Linville's health became poor, and hoping the change would benefit him, decided to go and keep camp for his son, John, and another young man, John Williams, who were going up into the mountains that fall (1766), to hunt for meat and pelts. They took several horses with them to use as pack animals, and pitched camp some fifty or sixty miles up in the Blue Ridge Mountains, 10 miles below Linville Falls. Just before daybreak one morning, William Linville roused the two young men, telling them he had just dreamed the Indians had come and massacred them. The dream was so real to him that he urged them to hasten to escape, saying he was too feeble to make the attempt. He had scarcely finished talking, and the young men had had no time to make any move toward escape, when the Indians, who must have been in hiding and heard the conversation, poured in a volley of shot. The two Linvilles— William and his son, John— were both killed, and the other young man received a bullet in his thigh. This injured the bone, but did not break it, and in the darkness and confusion he escaped.

Some time after the death of her husband, Mrs. Ellender (Bryan) Linville went to Kentucky to live with her children, and died there about 1792, in Madison County.

William1 and Ellender (Bryan) Linville had a number of children, the names of those known being:

1. John Linville, who was killed by Indians at the same time as his father. 2. William Linville, who went to Kentucky to live, but never married.

3. Morgan Linville, who married his cousin Bryan, daughter of Colonel Samuel Bryan. He had a son: Coleman Linville, who lived near Strode's Station, on Stoner Creek, in Clark County, Ky.

4. Nancy or Ann Linville, m. about 1766, George Boone (b. 173-; d. 14 Nov., 1820), a son of Squire4 and Sarah (Morgan) Boone, and a brother of Daniel Boone.

 Missouri, USA
Death: Sep. 25, 1999

"The Arizona Range News", Willcox, AZ
 Published September 29, 1999

"Letha (Forsyth) Brownfield 1904-1999 of Willcox, died on Sept. 25, 1999, at the age of 95. Letha was born on March 20, 1904, to Joseph Curtis Larkins and Minnie Malinda Williams, in Glasgow, Mo. Letha was a housewife. She babysat children until she was 74 years old. Letha was a member of the Sulphur Springs Homemaker Club. She was a resident of the Willcox area for 89 years and she previously resided in Missouri. Letha was also a member of the Frist Christian Church.

Letha was preceded in death by her first husband, Bryron Forsyth, and her second husband, Owen Brownfield; two sons and one brother. Letha is survived by one daughter, Juanita Howard of Willcox; three sons, Byron (Ingrid) Forsyth Jr. of Salt Lake City, Utah; Merrill Forsyth of Casa Grande; and Noel (Arlene) Forsyth of Willcox; also 32 grandchildren, 49 greatgrandchildren and 35 great-great grandchildren.

A service will be held today at 2 p.m. at the Westlawn Chapel. Pastor Duane Shipman will officiate the service. Letha will be laid to rest in Sunset Cemetery in Willcox. Contributions may be made to the Ron Riggs Scholarship fund, P.O. Box 384, Willcox, AZ 85644. Arrangements were made by Westlawn Chapel and Mortuary in Willcox."

Birth: Dec. 25, 1861
 Spring Creek (Madison County)
 Madison County
 Tennessee, USA
Death: May 3, 1944
 Pemiscot County
 Missouri, USA

The Steele Enterprise, Steele, Missouri
 Thursday, May 4, 1944

Mrs. Nancy M. Lawler, age 83, died Wednesday at the home of her son, B.J. Lawler, near Number nine.

She had been removed from her home near Lexington, Tenn., several days ago to this home because of her serious illness. Infirmities of old age were said to have contributed to the cause of her death.

Funeral services are to be conducted at Spring Creek, Tenn., with Smith's Funeral Home of Jackson, Tenn., in charge of arrangements.
 Left to survive her are her son, with whom she made her home in Spring Creek, Tenn., and another son, B.J. Lawler of Number Nine.
 Other survivors are three grandsons, D.J., Edd and Dink Lawler, and three granddaughters, Mrs. Clyde Talkington, Mrs. Lilbourn Van Dyke, and Mrs. Farris Clark.

Family links:

Spouse:

John Thomas Lawler (1862 - 1940)

Children:

Bill Jefferson Lawler (1884 - 1960)*
 Baby Lawler (1886 - 1886)*
 Jenny Lawler (1886 - 1887)*
 Adolphus Galum Lawler (1888 - 1944)*

DEATH	13 Nov 2008 (aged 53) Colorado Springs, El Paso County, Colorado, USA
BURIAL	Shrine of Remembrance Mausoleum Colorado Springs, El Paso County, Colorado, USA
MEMORIAL ID	31649278

Cynthia Salisbury Brown Onufer, age 53, a resident of Colorado Springs since 1980, passed away peacefully on Thursday, November 13, 2008 at her home.

She was a licensed day care provider. Cynthia Diane Brown was born April 15, 1955 in San Diego, California. Her parents were Willielee and Benjamin H. Brown. She graduated from high school, trade school and was then employed by the Sony Corporation, Brown Disc Manufacturing, Cook Ministries, Safeway and later operated a day care center in Colorado Springs.

She was a true animal lover and was not above rescuing animals from shelters. She could often be seen riding her horse "Poppy" in the Black Forest or romping with her dogs at home. Cynthia was also a talented free-lance artist, who could, with the eye of an artist, appreciate the unique design of lighthouses and collected many of them. She also loved to grow plants and flowers.

She is survived by her mother: Willielee Brown; her son: Troy Onufer; and her daughter: Summer Onufer; all of Colorado Springs; her brother: Randy Salisbury of San Diego; her sister: Karen Bright of Newburg, West Virginia and her former husband: Craig Onufer. She was preceded in death by her dad: Benjamin H. Brown.

A Memorial Service will be held at 2:00 p.m. on Friday, November 28th, 2008 at the Shrine of Remembrance "America the Beautiful" Chapel.

Memorials in her memory may be made to the Humane Society of the Pikes Peak Region, 610 Abbot Lane, Colorado Springs, Colorado 80905.

Hey Willielee,

Thank you again for your purchase! We are thrilled to have you as a customer, and hope we get the chance to send you beautiful plants for years to come!

Our number one priority is to get healthy plants safely to your door, and make sure that you are completely satisfied. So if there is any damage to the plants you ordered upon arrival, or any other problems with the shipment, please let us know immediately. We'll take care of it.

When your order is delivered, please follow these instructions to unpack your plants and prepare them for planting.

FIRST, remove plants from the box. Then remove the plastic bag from each plant by untying/cutting the top of the bag and pulling it off towards the bottom of the pot.

SECOND, water the plants thoroughly and place them in a shady location for at least a full day before planting. This gives the plants a chance to recover from shipping and acclimate to their new location.

Especially during warmer months, plants may arrive with some discolored or wilting leaves. This is generally due to the shock of being shipped in a dark box for several days with no water. Once watered well and planted, they should perk right up and thrive in your landscape for years to come!

P.S. Some plants (such as tall ornamental grasses) will be sheared back a bit prior to shipping. This not only makes them more compact for shipping, but when foliage is cut back, the roots use less energy and water during transit which means a thriving healthier plant when you receive it! It also promotes healthy, thicker growth. Just give it a little time after planting, and they will shoot out new growth in no time!

For some general planting instructions click the following link (or see below): Planting Instructions

Again, if there are any problems with your order, please let us know by sending an email to hello@thegreenhousepnw.com.

Enjoy your plants and happy gardening!

JAMES L. JOHNSON, Jr., a native of Turman Township, was born January 9, 1825, the second son of eleven children born to James L. and Hannah (Watson) Johnson, natives of Tennessee, and of Irish descent. The Johnson family settled in Sullivan County in 1808, arriving when the country was a wilderness inhabited by Indians. The subject of this sketch lived with his parents until of age, receiving limited education at the subscription schools in log houses. At the time of his first marriage, he received from his father eighty acres of land near Graysville, but afterward settled on and improved several farms until 1864, when he bought his present place of 296 acres, which he has now under a high state of cultivation. He is one of the best farmers of his locality, and his personal honor is without reproach. He handles considerable stock, is a leading Democrat, and himself and wife are members of the Christian Church. March 2, 1848, he married Rhoda B. Allen, who bore him this family: Elizabeth, born November 27, 1848; Ardalia, January 6, 1850; William W., December 26, 1850; Mary L., February 27, 1852; John A., December 9, 1853; James O., November 7, 1855; Thomas N., December 25, 1857, and Murray B., January 9, 1862. His wife having died, he was again married, October 3, 1867, to Mrs. Lucretia Dix, and to this union has been born one child, Oscar, January 7, 1869. The family is one of the most prominent and intelligent in the county.

American Nations by Colin Woodard - Book Review

In Colin Woodard's American Nations, the author steps back from our day-to-day politics and using the tools not only of political science but of sociology, anthropology, and psychology to plum the depths of the issues facing us as a country examines how we have emerged as not one people, but groups of separate people with different world views and solutions for the problems confronting us. By focusing on larger movements of peoples rather than the words and deeds of individuals, Woodard allows a portrait of national identities within America to emerge. The various peoples who arrived in this hemisphere from Columbus' voyages at the end of the fifteenth century to the various immigration waves since, with particular reference to those before about 1750, populated different parts of the country, including more than what most of us often consider the source of our country, the eastern seaboard. Included are the descendants of the Spanish conquistadors who extended their empire into what Woodard calls el norte (now including much of the Southwest) and New France, mostly what is now parts of eastern Canada and southern Louisiana. where their varying cultures took hold and still dominate. Other American nations include Yankeedom (New England and parts of New York), New Netherlands (originally New York and the Hudson Valley), The Midlands, Appalachia, The Deep South, and so-on.

Map of the American Nations

These groups sank deep roots of tradition and behavior, which spread westward like the country only to encounter dissimilar values and cultures which still dominate the varying regions. For instance, the Puritans settled in New England with a vision of building their "shining city on the hill," as a beacon for God's promise to mankind. Rather than seek religious freedom and tolerance for all, they struggled to establish their own kind of theocracy. As time passed, according to Woodard, the Puritan church lost its dominance, becoming Congregationalist, as immigrant groups entered the region. Nevertheless, the qualities and values they represented remained as they moved west across New York and into the upper Midwest. Qualities of frugality, moderation, simplicity, and a rather rigid moral code predominated in the regions they moved to. Voting patterns in the present time still reflect the values and structures (town meetings, universal suffrage, religious conviction, etc.) they established and are reflected in the voting patterns of these regions.

Similarly, Woodard's region called the Deep South and composed mostly of the states which sought to form the Confederacy was dominated by a class of aristocrats who based their governing theory on the hierarchies represented by Greece and Rome. They were large landowners whose fortunes were built on a labor base of African slaves and poor white laboring people. They stood at the top of a human pyramid designed to serve their needs for comfort and riches. This pattern persists today in the regions they inhabit, and is characterized by efforts to keep the underclass subservient, voting restricted, and education ineffective. The two regions have been locked in a life or death struggle since before the Constitution was written. Woodard says, "The goal of the Deep Southern oligarchy has been consistent for over four centuries: to control and maintain a one-party state with a colonial style economy based on large scale agriculture and the extraction of primary resources by a compliant, poorly educated, low-wage work force with as few workplace safety, health care, and environmental regulations as possible." (302) Garish displays of wealth and position are part of the cultural DNA of this nation.

Upgraded Map (by County)

Meanwhile, the balance of power has often been maintained by the cultural regions Woodard has called The Midlands, Greater Appalachia, and the Far West. Each region, representing differing cultural values and social norms has chosen between the two dominant governing strategies based on its needs at a given time in history. Greater Appalachia, populated largely by Scots-Irish immigrants escaping centuries of oppression by British aristocracy has chosen a restless motion towards the west along with a stubborn and often violent expression of its independence. Often sunk in dire poverty, the descendants of the early Appalachian peoples resisted slavery while simultaneously opposing the moralistic hectoring of Yankee puritanism, thus fracturing in E. Tennessee, Kentucky, western North Carolina, and West Virginia parts of what was trumpeted as the united confederacy, with families joining either north or south based on individual needs. The development of the Far West has been structured by its geography, geology, and cultural mix to have a highly independent streak while still being uncomfortably dependent upon federal dollars and thus control.

Colin Woodard

It is a seductive and overly simplistic view of our national development to consider our struggle as one that says "Heritage is Destiny." The descriptions Woodard provides of the various regions and the communities which created their qualities rings just true enough to draw a reader into his ideas. Yet it seems too much to simplify the complex variety of factors present. Having been born in New Netherlands, educated in The Midlands, lived in the Deep South, and settled in Yankeedom while sojourning in Greater Appalachia in our life in bluegrass music, am I, as an individual, unaffected by all these influences? Or do I bring a synthesis to my world that resembles deeply the ongoing development of American into a broader developing culture? What influences do mass media, mass migration, and constant movement have upon our social and political world?

Woodard supposes some eventual outcomes of our current struggle. He suggests the possibility that el norte could join northern Mexico with southern Arizona, New Mexico, California, and parts of Texas to create a new nation or even independent state. Or perhaps parts of the northern U.S. could join with parts of Canada. Or maybe the legal claims being forwarded by the First Nations (surviving aboriginal peoples) could form a confederation taking advantage of new powers granted by both Canadian and American governments. These possibilities seem pretty far-fetched and deterministic. An important insight Woodard provides is his discussion of the meaning of "freedom" and how the word means different things to different Americans. While there is much ongoing change in the United States (perhaps an oxymoron if Woodard is correct), there will continue to be a struggle over what Freedom means and how it is expressed within our country. It's clear we are not "one nation indivisible" as our mythology has us repeat daily in school, and will not become a homogeneous nation-state as some other countries are. Nevertheless, we continue the discussion, sometimes in much less than civil ways (particularly in our public media) while we cross the borders a great deal, continuing our restless search for acceptable answers which won't ever be the same for all of us. AmericanNations makes a valuable contribution to this discussion.

American Nations by Colin Woodard (373 pp.) is published by Viking Press and retails for $30.00. It's heavily annotated with extensive notes, a useful index and suggestions for further reading. I bought my copy. It's available from all the usual sources. Help this site by purchasing it through the Amazon portal here.

Have you read "Albion's Seed" by David Hackett Fisher? It's very similar in that he traces much of today's regional differences to the different regions of Great Britain and where the emigrants of each region settled in America. Does the author refer to it in his bibliography? It's a long book but very enlightening.

Thanks for the review, Ted, and my interest has been piqued but not to the extent of thirty bucks! I've ordered a copy from the local public library, and will read it with interest.

Debbie - Fischer is the second writer he mentions in his list of further readings and acknowledgements. Woodard gives Fischer lots of credit while believing his own analysis takes it all several steps further. Thanks for your comments.

I have questions about the reading how can you identify and explain the emergence of rival regions in north America as they pertain to ethnic, religious, political, and economic beliefs and principles in part one of the book?

Another question that I have is that how can you identify and discuss how those principles affected relations with one another and the "west" in part 3 and 4? thank you
